ICHSM 2024 Brief Introduction

2024 7th International Conference on Healthcare Service Management (ICHSM 2024) will be held in Istanbul, Turkiye during September 6-8, 2024. The Student Essay Prize is open to teams of undergraduate students or individual graduate students or Phd Students(all over the world) who have inventions in the field of Healthcare Service Management. Interested students are encouraged to submit and present their papers as the first author. A full paper will be considered for the student essay prize competition if it meets the following criteria.

Rules of eligibility for the Student Essay Prize competition are as follows:

1. To be fair, students will be divided into 3 groups based on their degree for the competition: Undergraduate Group, Master Group and Phd Group. Best essay prize will be chosen from each group. 2. The presenting author must have been enrolled in an educational program leading to a degree at the time. 3. The student must have played a substantive role in the submitted paper, including the conception and implementation of the research project and so on. 4. If accepted for presentation, the student must be the presenter of the oral presentation and must register it at the meeting. 5. Please note that all accepted full papers for the Student Essay Prize Competition will be oral presentations.

PS: You are encouraged to attend ICHSM2024 physically by conference organizing committee. Formal certificates and prize distribution will be awarded during closing ceremony. Please pay attention If you plan to attend conference in person, please bring your own laptop and equipment since the competition session is just held online.
